Get To Know Our Doctors

Welcome to our veterinary practice! We would like to thank you for choosing us to provide your pet with superior care and a future of good health. We strive to provide the most complete veterinary care. Our knowledgeable staff looks forward to a continuing relationship with you and your pet. Our goal is preventive medicine with an emphasis on individual and complete care for your pet. We are very proud of our veterinary hospital and if you have not already, we encourage you to take a tour!

Dr. Carole Richards, owner of Caring Hands Animal Hospital, is a graduate of Cornell University College of Veterinary Medicine in Ithaca, New York. Originally from Illinois, she has a degree in Biology from Eureka College, the Alma Mater of President Ronald Reagan. Dr. Richards has been practicing in the Northern Virginia area since graduation from veterinary school and has interests in ultrasound and soft tissue surgery.

Dr. Kimberly Madigan, associate veterinarian, grew up in western Massachusetts and attended the University of Massachusetts, Amherst where she completed her bachelor degree in animal science/pre-vet. Dr. Madigan received her veterinary degree from the University of Glasgow, Scotland in 2014. Dr. Madigan completed a small animal rotating internship at the New England Animal Medical Center in West Bridgewater, MA. She moved to Virginia in 2015 and joined our practice in 2017. Her special interests include internal medicine, oncology, soft tissue surgery and preventative medicine. Dr. Madigan shares her home with her two lovely cats Sophie and Gus. Outside of work she enjoys reading, traveling, hiking, and spending time with family and friends.

Dr. Patrick Hilson, associate veterinarian, grew up in Los Angeles, CA before moving to Blacksburg, VA for his undergraduate degree. He completed a degree in Animal and Poultry Sciences/Pre-Vet. He then attended Virginia Maryland College of Veterinary Medicine and graduated in 2017. After graduation, he worked in Alexandria, VA for two years as an emergency veterinarian before joining Caring Hands in 2019. His special interests include soft tissue surgery, internal medicine, and neurology. Dr. Hilson has an Australian shepherd named Jackson that he rescued in 2013. He enjoys playing board/video games and fishing in his spare time.

Dr. Kamryn Kurtz, associate veterinarian, grew up in Michigan and attended Michigan State University for both undergraduate and graduate school. Go Green! She received a Bachelor of Science in Animal Science, and completed her Master of Public Health and Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degrees concurrently. Additionally, Dr. Kurtz completed her Certification in Veterinary Medical Acupuncture from CuraCore. Her interests include dermatology, parasitology, internal medicine, nutrition, and integrative medicine. Dr. Kurtz is also passionate about public health, zoonotic disease education, and the concept of 'One Medicine'. In her free time, Dr. Kurtz enjoys caring for her hundreds of houseplants, watching football and hockey, playing tennis, and singing karaoke. She shares her home with three wonderful cats (Addison, Ted, and Eleanor) and a goofy Labrador retriever (Leonardo), all four of whom seem to enjoy living in a jungle.

Dr. Karen Murphy, owner of Caring Hands Animal Hospital, is a graduate of Auburn University. She did her post graduate internship at Angell Memorial Animal Hospital in Boston, MA. Her interests lie in preventative medicine, internal medicine, surgery and ultrasound.

Dr. Michelle Vitulli, founder of Caring Hands Animal Hospital, Inc. is the owner of Caring Hands Animal Hospital, Inc. in Centreville and co-owner of Caring Hands Animal Hospital of Alexandria, Arlington, Ashburn, Bristow, Merrifield, Rockville, and Clarendon. She has interests in cardiology, internal medicine, and preventive care for senior pets. Dr. Vitulli, and her husband Bob have three children, Daniel, Julia and Anna, a dog named Harley, and three cats named Dewey, Little Bear, and Aslan.
